

LANDON'S NOMINATION NEAR

Roosevelt Heads for Texas After Little Rock Talk

Political Remarks Stir Speculation—Speaks Before Crowd of 30,000

IS GIVEN BIG OVATION

Pledges Administration Will March Forward in Meeting Country's Needs

About 100 persons gathered on the Missouri Pacific depot platform in Hope Wednesday night to wait for President Franklin D. Roosevelt's special train to go through here on its way from the Arkansas Centennial observance at Little Rock to the Texas Centennial.

About midnight, train No. 25 came through, acting as "pilot"—and at 12:15 a. m. Thursday the Presidential Special of seven cars thundered into the station and pounded on down the road to Texas.

The crowd broke up and went home, satisfied merely to see the train that bore a sleeping president on his tour of the land.

Every possible precaution was taken by the railroad to guard the president's safety while a passenger on Missouri Pacific equipment. Track-walkers patrolled the right-of-way and special guards watched switches and bridges.

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—President Roosevelt headed for Texas Wednesday night after pledging his administration to a "march forward" under the "broad purposes" of the constitution in meeting the economic and social needs of the day.

At the same time, the chief executive told a throng estimated as upwards of 30,000 at the stadium bowl were celebrating the Arkansas statehood centennial that an overwhelming majority of the American people believed the constitution was intended to "meet and fit the amazing physical, economic and social requirements that confront us in this generation."

He said Jefferson "had the courage" to drive a bargain for the Louisiana Purchase, despite legal doubts, and that the case was never carried to the supreme court.

Speaking an hour before the scheduled address of former President Hoover to the Republican national convention, over a nation-wide radio hookup, he also declared the country needed "ardent protectors of the rights of the common man" and added no group, by reason of wealth, learning, inheritance or economic power, could "arrogate to itself" political control of American public life for long.

Introduced by Governor Governor J. M. Fulton introduced the president, Mrs. Roosevelt sat with him on the platform, with Senators Robinson and Coughlin.

The substance of the speech came as a surprise to many members of the president's party who had been led to believe he would confine his remarks to historical reference in tune with the occasion. They were wondering Wednesday night whether he would depart from his pre-announced intention at Dallas, Texas, Friday and at Vincennes, Ind., Sunday, where two other set speeches on his 4,000-mile tour of the west are scheduled.

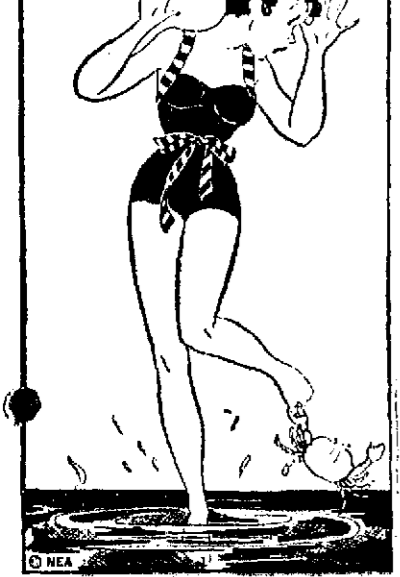

Applause rang out over the huge stadium as the executive punctuated major points. He was cheered as he entered and left the guile bedecked stadium. They cheered and laughed at his inferential shafts at the supreme court.

He refrained from detailing how he intended to deal with current problems in view of the supreme court's

Malaga President Is Assassinated

Bloody Fighting Breaks Out After President Romano Is Killed

MADRID.—(P)—Antonio Romano, 62, president of the Malaga provincial parliament and the province's socialist leader, was assassinated in the city of Malaga Thursday.

Street fighting immediately broke out between partisans of the Socialist and Syndicalist factions although both are members of the Leftist coalition which governs Spain.

A group of unidentified men opened fire on President Romano as he appeared on the street.

Bloody Rioting

MADRID.—(P)—Communists and Syndicalists fought a pitched machine gun battle in the streets of Malaga late Wednesday while Spain counted three more dead and unnumbered wounded in politico-strike disorders.

Firing broke out in Malaga's main thoroughfares after two persons had been slain and Socialists had called a general strike.

The Syndicalist leader, Miguel Ortiz Acevedo, was cut down as he carried a baby out of his house. The baby was unhurt. The slaying followed the street killing of a Communist lawyer.

In Aznalcazar, Seville province, Antonio Ramirez, Socialist chief, was killed in a political quarrel. Barajas saw many armed clashes between the Leftists and Rightists.

Police reserves rushed into Malaga from surrounding areas when the rioters began firing machine guns.

Two National Workers' Federation centers were destroyed by fire and Socialist headquarters was besieged for a time.

Madrid's labor situation improved somewhat with the return of striking Syndicalist waiters, a compromise on a strike involving elevator mechanics and the reopening of cafes. The minister of labor was hopeful a strike of construction workers could be terminated Thursday.

Strikes and political violence have claimed nearly 180 lives since the Leftist government won power in the February elections.

High Wind, Rain Strikes Arkansas

Several Small Houses at Prescott Unroofed, Trees Blown Down

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—High winds followed by a drenching rain visited many sections of Arkansas Wednesday to end the summer's first hot spell and further fortify the state against possible drought.

Shattered window panes and slight property damage was the extent of the damage. None was reported injured.

Many offices in Little Rock were filled with dust carried by a high wind as the storm came up suddenly. Several thousand visitors awaiting President Roosevelt's arrival at Fair Park scampered for shelter when the down-pour came.

The storm carried dust into Memphis and helped suffering crops in the vicinity of Wynne, Parkin and other Northeast Arkansas towns.

The wind was strong enough to pull off metal roofs at Sorey. Electricity was cut off for a time as a precautionary measure.

A wind and dust storm preceding rain at Prescott blew down shade trees, unroofed several outbuildings and demolished the back wall of a frame gymnasium being constructed as a Works Progress Administration project, which was covered by tornado insurance.

Jackson Sheriff Is Reported Short

Audit Reveals $11,856 Missing in Accounts of Lee Reid

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—An audit filed Wednesday by J. Bryan Sims, chief county accountant, in the state comptroller's office, showed a shortage of $11,856.66 as of June 6 in the accounts of Lee Reid, Jackson county sheriff and tax collector.

In his report to State Comptroller Griffin Smith, Sims called attention of $6318.38 in the Reid accounts which he said involved issuance of tax receipts by the collector before the tax money had been delivered to him by the taxpayer. The audit covered about one and a half years of Reid's first term in office.

If certain claims were realized, Sims said that the reported shortage would be reduced by $2,758.21.

Senator Robinson Returns to Capital

Thousands Cheer Roosevelt as He Arrives in Houston

After congress adjourns he will return to his native state for the Democratic primary campaign which finds him facing three opponents.

Arrives in Houston

HOUSTON, Texas.—(P)—President Roosevelt and his party arrived here at 9:24 a. m. Thursday. Thousands thronged the streets to greet the president and his party.

Tour of Texas

DALLAS, Texas.—(P)—President Roosevelt comes to flag-draped Texas Thursday for a hurried 60-hour swing over half the vast state that is traditionally one of the nation's strongest Democratic lairs.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt will hurry by train through the world's most prolific oil fields, to Houston's waterfront and San Jacinto battle-grounds, Texas' shrine of liberty at San Antonio, Dallas' $25,000,000 Texas centennial exposition and, finally, to the fringe of the cattle domain at Fort Worth.

Business hours will remain closed for four hours Thursday morning when the president arrives at Houston. The party will go direct from the train to Houston's ship channel for a boat trip to the San Jacinto battle-grounds—where General Sam Houston's heroic band won Texas independence from Mexico 100 years ago.

President Roosevelt will speak briefly from his automobile before en-training for San Antonio shortly after noon.

A pause at the Alamo, crumbling shrine of liberty which inspired a battle cry that brought Texas her freedom—"remember the Alamo"—and the presidential party will depart for Dallas. Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, who officially opened the centennial exposition here last Saturday, joins his chief at San Antonio.

After an all-night journey, the presidential train will stop at a nearby, unnamed village early Friday and then resume its trip to Dallas.

The exposition city has prepared for the largest crowd in its history—the largest since the visit of Theodore Roosevelt in 1905, the last president to visit here while still in office.

Refunding Board to Reduce Its Employees

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—The State Refunding Board, in special session Thursday, ordered 16 clerical employees to be dropped from the payroll July 1.

The refunding program is nearing completion; and an economy move was given as a reason for dropping the employees, said Supervisor James O. Goff.

The milling, jostling, badge-bedecked throng of more than 10,000 that swarmed into Cleveland's Public Hall for the opening ceremonies of the Republican national convention had steered into orderliness as this striking official picture was taken. On the speakers' stand, dressed in white, is Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the party's national committee, who called the initial session to order. Facing him are the delegates. At either side and in the two sections behind the speakers' stand are the press seats. In the balconies are shown the thousands of spectators who flocked into the great hall, though many seats were unoccupied when the call to order came. The photographers' stands are seen extending from the centers of the balconies at right and left. The band has its own balcony in the rear. This official picture was taken by John E. Ertler.

Butchers Now On Strike in France

Prospect of Meat Shortage Threatens Paris in New Outbreak

PARIS, France.—(P)—Strike threats of wholesale butchers gave labor-vexed Paris the prospect of a meat shortage Thursday.

Hardly had the widespread café and restaurant strike ended in a worker's victory when the wholesale butcher shop union announced its men would stop work Friday unless its demands are met.

Blum Program Hit

PARIS.—(P)—A possible split in the government's Leftist majority over the 40-hour week threatened to halt Premier Leon Blum's "New Deal" labor program.

Strikers, demanding more money and shorter hours, awaited parliamentary action on the labor bills before returning to work.

The measures were introduced Wednesday and sent to a special parliamentary committee.

Hoger Salengro, Minister of the Interior, tackled the strikes in Northern mills, where workers showed little disposition to end their walkout until new privileges are guaranteed by Parliament.

Principal Demands Granted

(The five principal demands of strikers were granted Monday in a general agreement, which included wage increases of from 7 to 15 per cent, recognition of unions and collection bargaining, a 40-hour week and paid vacations.)

(Northern miners went on strike immediately after the agreement was signed.)

The government's Leftist "Peoples' Front," holding a majority in the Chamber of Deputies, is united behind the government's program except for the 40-hour week bill.

Enters Race for County Treasurer

Miss Lillie Middlebrooks to Be Candidate on August 11th

Formal announcement is made in today's political column of the candidacy of Miss Lillie Middlebrooks for county treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election August 11.

In her announcement Miss Middlebrooks reminds the Hempstead county voters that she is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the treasurer's office. She served as treasurer from January, 1929 to December 31, 1932, rendering an efficient, economical and courteous administration.

Prior to her public service she had a successful business career with several well known Hooper concerns.

Concerning her previous public service Miss Middlebrooks said:

"While county treasurer I was scrupulous about handling the cashing of warrants exactly as the law requires, showing partiality to absolutely no one."

"I retained funds to pay constitutional warrants as the law directs, and paid contractual warrants in the order of their presentation. I absolutely never would hold out funds to pay personal friends, but I simply paid each and everybody alike."

"I believe a public office is a public trust. I made a good record as a faithful public servant in 1929-32—and I pledge the voters of Hempstead county that if elected treasurer August 11th I will give them the same conscientious and impartial service."

New Deal Is Scored by Herbert Hoover

Great Ovation Given Him at Republican National Convention

CLEVELAND.—(P)—In a sharp ex-coriation of the New Deal before the Republican national convention, Herbert Hoover Wednesday night compared it with the "march of Socialist and Fascist dictatorships" in Europe and called for the American people to enter upon a "holy crusade for liberty."

Addressing "Republicans and fellow Americans," the former president and titular leader of his party concluded his address:

"Stop the retreat, lead the attack to retake, recapture and remain the citadels of liberty."

"Thus can America be preserved. Thus can the peace, plenty and security be re-established and expanded. Thus can the opportunity, the inheritance and the spiritual future of your children be guaranteed. And thus will you win the gratitude of posterity and the blessing of Almighty God."

The appearance of Hoover touched off the first prolonged demonstration of the convention. As he stepped onto the platform, wearing his usual high collar and a conservative dark gray suit, the delegates let loose at 15-minute period of shouting and parading.

For the first time the state standards were seized and carried around the huge hall.

Again when he finished, the delegates got out of hand. For 38 minutes they jammed the aisles and filled the hall with shouts of "We want Hoover," and all sorts of side antics. But the former president had left almost as soon as his last word was spoken, and boarded a train for New York.

Chairman Snell adjourned the session at 10:08 p. m. until 11:00 a. m. Thursday.

Frank Knox May Be Chosen As Running Mate, Reports Say

Selections May Be Made at Convention Thursday Night

PLATFORM DRAWN

Makes No Mention of Gold But Wants Sound Currency

CLEVELAND.—(P)—The prairie fire of Landon sentiment swept the fifth session of the Republican national convention Thursday.

It was predicted that the Kansas governor, with Col. Frank Knox of Illinois as a running mate, would be nominated for the presidency Thursday night.

One after another of Landon's competitor's withdrew their names in favor of the Kansas governor.

A great mass of foot-loose delegates Thursday joined up with followers of Landon.

Ready to Celebrate

"We are going to tear things wide open" said Secretary Mark Bremer of the chamber of commerce Thursday.

G. O. P. Platform

CLEVELAND.—(P)—The Republican platform, as it neared completion by the sub-committee Thursday, called for "sound currency to be preserved at all hazards."

The platform made no mention of gold and said that wage and hour standards could be set by states without a constitutional amendment.

Other chief points of the platform:

1. Relief—Return to local agencies to be handled through federal grants to the states.

2. Security—Repeal of the unemployment and old age insurance of the sub-committee Thursday, called "unworkable," but to provide for old age security, graduated contributions to the states to help maintain unemployment insurance plans.

3. Labor—To protect rights of labor, bargain collectively, and to encourage state adoption of laws and compacts to abolish child labor, sweatshops and protect women and children in respect to maximum hours, minimum wages and working conditions.

Liquor and Gambling Is Laid to Loss in Church Membership

The Rev. L. O. Luet of Texarkana conducted the devotional service.

Your Baby's Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHER
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

One of the most important considerations in any child's education is training in health habits. As I have emphasized repeatedly, this should be begun early in infancy and should be maintained regularly throughout training.

The essential habits include those which affect eating, cleanliness, sleeping, and exercise.

One of the important habits concerned in eating is feeding one's self. Most children can be taught to feed themselves by the end of the second year.

For a child to be fed by another after this time is abnormal and unfortunate. The child should be taught to eat a variety of foods, and not to make an entire meal of one or two substances.

While children may be sensitive to one or two articles of diet, there still remains a vast variety of foods from which to choose.

Children should be taught to eat foods that are proper for them and not to want coffee, candy, or other foods of their own choosing, in amounts not suitable to their years.

Children should eat slowly and chew thoroughly. They can be taught to chew by giving them solid food and such substances as hard, dry crackers, zwieback, crisp toast, and similar substances, after their molar teeth have developed.

Finally, the baby should drink water several times a day between meals, as well as the water which regularly accompanies the meals.

Especially important is emphasis on the baby's feeding itself and eating without too much trouble. The baby that lacks appetite learns to play with the food.

Parents encourage this by feeding the baby and amusing it during the eating. The child develops less and less desire for food and will probably learn to vomit, just to avoid eating.

Most experts now advise that the food should be given at regular hours, in 15 or 20 minutes, be taken away, even though none has been eaten. The child should not be offered more food until the next regular meal.

It is hardly worth while to spend much time talking to the child, because coaxing only makes matters worse.

invalidation of many New Deal acts. "The new approach to these problems may not be immediately discernible," he said, "but organization to meet human suffering can never be predicted on the relaxation of human effort."

Some observers and members of his official party saw in the address likely material for the new Democratic platform. They refused to talk for quotation, but speculated, for instance, on his constitutional, supreme court, and "common man" references and this statement near the end of his speech: "The liberal tendencies of those who for nearly a century we have called our western statesmen, have been sometimes too little understood in the older, more conservative east."

One member of the official party said he would not be surprised if the philosophy of the speech were repeated throughout the coming campaign.

Pratt Robinson
His largest ovation of the day came at flag-draped Little Rock. Through the city the presidential party rode, finding its way to Fair Park and Roosevelt stadium to view the pageant, and hear the U. S. marine band.

The Little Rock stadium crowd sent up a loud shout when the chief executive declared no man deserves greater credit "for loyal devotion to a great cause than my old friend and associate, Senator Robinson of Arkansas."

The president was presented to the crowd of more than 30,000 by Senator Robinson. Robinson was introduced by Harvey C. Couch following a brief talk by Governor Futrell.

Declaring that "there is no reason for a Democratic candidate to come to Arkansas," the governor said, "we know that the president's visit here today is in appreciation of the loyal support our senators and congressmen have given him."

The president arrived at the stadium during the concluding scenes of an historical pageant.

Pageant Presented
The pageant colorfully presented the passing of the red men before the march of pioneers. The pioneers were headed by a surveying crew, followed by the home-makers, the priests and circuit riders and later the gay dance hall crowds of the west with the bandits of that era.

Three airplanes, flying in formation, circled slowly above the stadium during the pageant.

Two choirs, one of negroes, supplemented the presentation with appropriate anthems and hymns.

The slave period was aptly presented by a group of negro actors. This part of the show was capped by the performance of a woman, playing the part of an ante-bellum "mammy" to perfection. Her antics brought repeated applause.

The bells of the Old South were shown in her wedding finery as a party of guests bowed and curtsied under the shadow of the Civil war bust across the picture. The crowd burst into scattered applause and rebel yells sounded as a Confederate flag was waved by a gray-clad soldier. The stars and stripes followed across the stage as the audience rose quickly and stood with bared heads.

Representatives of the North and South marched out together, side by side, in depiction of the friendship and union that welded the nation after the war between the states.

Then was shown the great railroad era with the laying of track for the iron horse. Industry, followed by home makers passed in a moving picture across the colorful scene of agriculture.

The "Yanks" marched to the World war as the choruses sang songs of 1917. Flags of the allies trooped past. Red Cross nurses led blind veterans. War mothers followed with little children. Gold star mothers displayed their emblems and profiteers paraded with swollen money bags.

Followed the wild twenties with their flappers and lounge lizards. The 1929 crash dashed their gaiety.

Communists followed with red banners, clubs and screaming placards. Mob hysteria was predicted. Then came the words of President Roosevelt's inaugural address. The red banners disappeared as American flags were waved and the singers broke forth with the words of "American Songs."

Following the president's address, he and other dignitaries were dinner guests at the home of Senator Robinson before departing for Dallas where the president speaks at the Texas centennial exposition.

More than 300 national guardsmen, 25 motorcycle police who headed the presidential parade, state rangers, city and county peace authorities and the usual secret service detail closely guarded the president throughout his Arkansas visit.

Arkansas for months has planned for his coming to launch its 100th birthday party in observance of its admittance as the union's 25th state on June 15, 1836. The next six months will see Arkansas review in pageantry song and verse its historic progress from a wilderness under three flags to a sovereign commonwealth in its own right.

Faces Charge Over Fatal Auto Wreck

Girl, 11, Dies of Injuries After Crash Near Texarkana

TEXARKANA.—Mary Louise Presley, 11, daughter of a Bowie county (Texas) farmer, died Wednesday at a hospital here from injuries suffered Monday in an automobile accident four miles west of Texarkana.

Charges of driving an automobile while drunk have been filed against R. H. Enoch, who also was injured. Officers, upon being advised of the girl's death, said they would file a murder charge against Enoch.

Enoch is receiving treatment for a fractured skull and broken leg at a hospital here.

The parents of the wreck victim also were injured. Mrs. Presley suffered a fractured pelvis and a broken hip. Her husband suffered three broken ribs.

Physicians said shock, loss of blood and collapse of the left lung resulted in Mary Louise's death.

Tax Bill Conferees Pass Major Issues

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—House and senate conferees on the tax bill agreed on several minor points in the measure, but passed over major issues.

There appeared little likelihood that a complete agreement on the bill would be reached before the end of the week, since several Republican conferees are in Cleveland.

signer like you would really mean a fortune for her?"

"Madame Lizette evidently doesn't think that."

"Well, I'm taking you to dinner tonight. Come on! I'm ravenous."

Later, as they lingered over the dinner (most of the tables around them were already deserted) Natalie said thoughtfully, "Some people say you have a better chance of getting a job if you still have one. If I were you, I wouldn't tell anyone you've left Madame Lizette's unless it's necessary."

"All right, Natalie," Gail agreed. "I'll take your advice. It's been awfully good of you to tell me who's who and where to go first."

She folded the sheet of paper with its list of names and slipped it into her handbag.

BUT in spite of Natalie's practical advice, Gail came home the next night footsore and weary. She had made dozens of calls, but evidently no one wanted her services.

There was a letter in her pigeon-hole, but when the girl handed it to her, Gail did not bother to open it.

After her bath she slipped into a negligee, picked up a magazine and began to read. At last she dressed. Natalie had a date and would not be home until late. Gail decided she might as well have dinner in the clubhouse.

Derek had gone deep-sea fishing with an old friend who only came to the city about twice a year. He'd wanted her to join them when they returned and go to a theater, but Gail had been sure his friend would prefer the evening alone with Derek.

As she stooped to pick up her handbag she saw the letter again. A moment later she sank down on the couch. "Oh!" she cried, "What next?"

Dear Miss Everett: As I understand you are a daughter of the late Peter Everett, I presume you are the owner of the Rancho Angelo. Although it is rather rundown, it is just the sort of place I am looking for. If you will consent to an immediate sale—within 10 days—I am willing to offer you $10,000 cash.

Please let me know your decision at once as I should do not accept my offer I shall have to find another place.

Yours very truly,
Rex Hall.

N. Y. Delegation to Go to London

85 New York Delegates Support Landon on First Ballot

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—While the Republican National Convention was going wild Wednesday night over former President Herbert Hoover and cheering his appeal to extirpate the New Deal policies and restore individual liberty, things were happening behind the scenes that indicated the nomination of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the nominee of the party.

The appearance of Mr. Hoover before the convention evoked such a protracted demonstration of enthusiasm as is usually reserved for the nominee of the party.

Mr. Hoover smilingly and modestly accepted the tribute and then plunged into a speech that was aimed at the New Deal without taking sides in the contest over the Republican ticket.

Although known to be less favorably inclined to Governor Landon than to any of his rivals of the nomination, the titular leader of the party betrayed no bias, but called upon all Republicans alike to unite against the common enemy, the New Deal.

"The day the Republican party," he thundered, "can assure right principles we can turn this nation from the demoralization of relief to the contentment of constructive jobs. Herein—and herein alone—is a guarantee of jobs for the 11,000,000 idle based upon realities and not on political claptrap."

A band wagon movement for Landon earlier Wednesday was precipitated by the New York and Pennsylvania delegations. Of New York's delegates 85 voted to support Landon on the first ballot. Fifty of the 75 Pennsylvanians also announced they would do the same.

These and other accretions to the Landon strength indicated that there would be no fewer than 550 votes for the governor on the first ballot and only 502 are necessary to nominate.

Representative Bertrand H. Snell of New York, minority leader of the House at Washington, took the gavel as permanent chairman and stirred the delegates to enthusiasm with an address exhorting "the arrogant individualism of Franklin D. Roosevelt" and calling for the unhorsing of the New Deal.

Inviting the support of conservative Democrats, Mr. Snell dangled before them the reward of a place in the cabinet if the Republicans should win the election.

God of our fathers, known of old—
Lord of our far-flung battle line—
Beneath whose awful hand we hold
Dominion over palm and pine—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

The tumult and the shouting dies—
The Captains and the Kings depart—
Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart.
An humble and a contrite heart.
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

'Moon's Our Home' Saenger Two Days

Margaret Sullivan, Henry
Fonda Star in Comedy-
Romance Film

In "The Moon's Our Home," Margaret Sullivan appears in one of her best roles. As a fiery-tempered actress in the comedy-romance showing Thursday and Friday at the Saenger, the star has a fine opportunity to display her talents.

Miss Sullivan's portrayal runs the gamut of human emotions, from gentle love to fiery hate, from a raging tantrum to absolute docility.

All of these characteristics are displayed by the star who, as a screen actress in the film dramatization of the Faith Baldwin story, learns to despise a noted explorer-author, as he has learned to hate her by reputation.

They fall desperately in love, however, when they meet under assumed names. They marry and the clash of temperaments begins, resulting in a heated quarrel on their wedding night with the bride walking out on the bridegroom. When they relent, their efforts to locate each other leads them through many amusing adventures.

As Miss Sullivan's leading man, Henry Fonda is outstanding. Others in the supporting cast are Henrietta Cromack, Charles Butterworth, Lucien Littlefield and Beulah Bondi.

Office

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—Chief Charles Augustus Burns of the Little Rock fire department died suddenly late Wednesday afternoon in a doctor's office here. He was 38 years old.

The physician reported acute dilation of the heart induced by an attack of indigestion as the cause of death. Mr. Burns collapsed on his way to the doctor's office, where he had received treatment for more than a year for a stomach disorder. Taken to the office, he appeared to be recovering but suffered a new attack and succumbed.

A native and life long resident of Little Rock, Mr. Burns became chief in 1933 and had been a member of the fire department for nearly four decades.

Second Place Is Taken by Pirates

6 to 3 Victory Over Brooklyn Marks Fifth
Straight Game

PITTSBURGH.—(P)—The Pirates took possession of second place in the National League Wednesday and pulled up to 3½ games from the pace-setting Cardinals by winning their fifth straight game, a 6 to 3 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers. The win gave the Pirates a clean sweep of the four-game series with the Dodgers, and stretched the Brooklyn losing streak to seven.

Red Lucas pitched shutout ball until the seventh, when three hits brought in a run. He got into trouble in the ninth, however, when, with two out, Brooklyn scored two runs on four straight singles. Guy Bush rushed in for relief, ended the rally.

With the New York Giants rained out in Cincinnati, the win for the Bucs broke the second-place deadlock between Pittsburgh and New York.

Agreement on Auto Sales Is Proposed

Suggests That Arkansas and Oklahoma Get Together on Fees

OKLAHOMA CITY.—(P)—H. L. McCracken, chairman of the State Tax Commission, proposed Wednesday that Oklahoma and Arkansas reach an agreement to protect Oklahoma motor dealers from severe license penalties when they sell automobiles to Arkansas residents.

"I've had complaints that Oklahoma dealers are being socked heavily for doing business in Arkansas," said McCracken. "Either that has to stop or we will do the same to Arkansas dealers."

Oklahoma charges a $25 registration fee on automobiles purchased out of the state. McCracken said he did not know the amount Arkansas charges, but said it was much more than $25.

Confederate Vets Thank Roosevelt

New Officers and Next Meeting Place to Be Selected Thursday

SHREVEPORT, La.—(P)—Confederate veterans in their 46th annual reunion Wednesday sent a message of thanks to President Roosevelt for his co-operation in making it a success.

The first official act of the veterans in their initial business session was to transmit their thanks to the chief executive for approving acts of congress authorizing the sending of the Marine Corps Band here and the use of army supply tents and equipment for the reunion.

One veteran, whose name was not learned, was treated for bruises suffered in a fall at a hotel. The only other occasion of the reunion calling for medical attention was shortly after the veterans arrived here when many of them required alcoholic rubdowns and conditioning by nurses after exhausting trips.

Thursday the veterans settled down to their most important business, that of electing new officers and selecting a 1937 meeting place.

The Sons of Confederate Veterans, who are meeting simultaneously with the reunion, held their grand ball Wednesday night.

Paralysis Test Held Unreliable

Five Years of Research
Ends in Chicago With Failure

CHICAGO.—(P)—A five-year study of infantile paralysis ended Wednesday with a report in which researchers said methods of testing immunity to the disease were not reliable.

The procedure has been to draw a sample of blood from the human subject, mix it with the virus which causes the paralysis, and inject it into a monkey. If the blood contained antibodies able to kill the virus, the monkey did not get sick and the blood donor was considered immune.

Experiments have proved, however, said three doctors—N. Paul Hudson of Columbia, Ohio, Edwin H. Lennette and Francis B. Gordon of Chicago—that this method fails to consider the fact that the virus attacks through the nervous system and not through blood vessels.

Of 19 monkeys vaccinated with different substances, 12 were found to have antibodies in their blood as a result.

When the virus was introduced in their nasal passages—now considered the chief point of entry for the disease—18 of the 19 died of infantile paralysis.

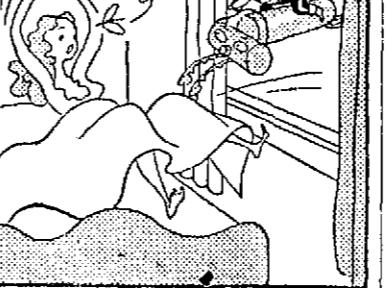

The highest wind speed ever registered in the British Isles was in January, 1920, when 112 miles an hour was recorded at Quilly, county Chase, Ireland.

Actor Loses in Court Battle With Mae West

NEW YORK.—Actor Frank Wallace, seeking Wednesday in Supreme Court to be declared Mae West's husband, found the "no casting today" sign on the wall. But he got a big hand from Justice Salvatore A. Cicilia, which brought a flush to his cheeks.

"So he wants to be declared Mae West's husband?" the court said. "I admire him."

"I am afraid there is nothing for me to do but kick this case out of here," he added.

Phillips and Nizer, Miss West's lawyers, insisted the actress had not been properly served in the action and that the Supreme Court here has no jurisdiction. Wallace must begin proceedings all over again if he wants the Mr. West role.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.
